1.1) The Sign Up Page

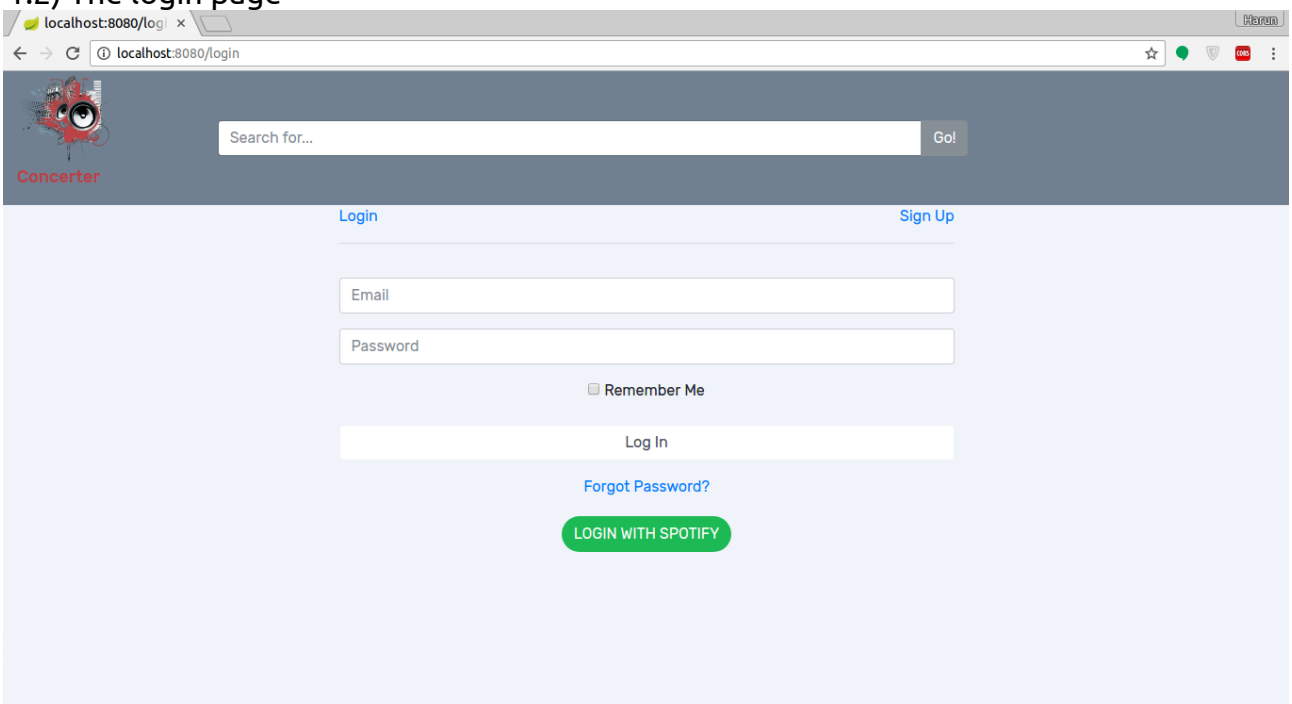

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the address bar displaying 'localhost:8080/login'. The page features a dark blue header with a search bar and a 'Go!' button. Below the header, there are links for 'Login' and 'Sign Up'. The main content area is light blue and contains a green 'LOGIN WITH SPOTIFY' button. Below this, there are five input fields labeled 'name', 'Username', 'Email', 'Password', and 'Image'. At the bottom of the form is a 'Register Now' button.

You have to sign up in order to access the site. You can either access the site with his/her Spotify account or by entering the above information. After entering the information, you either can press the Register Now button or pushing the enter button in order to sign up.

After signing up you are redirected to the login screen.

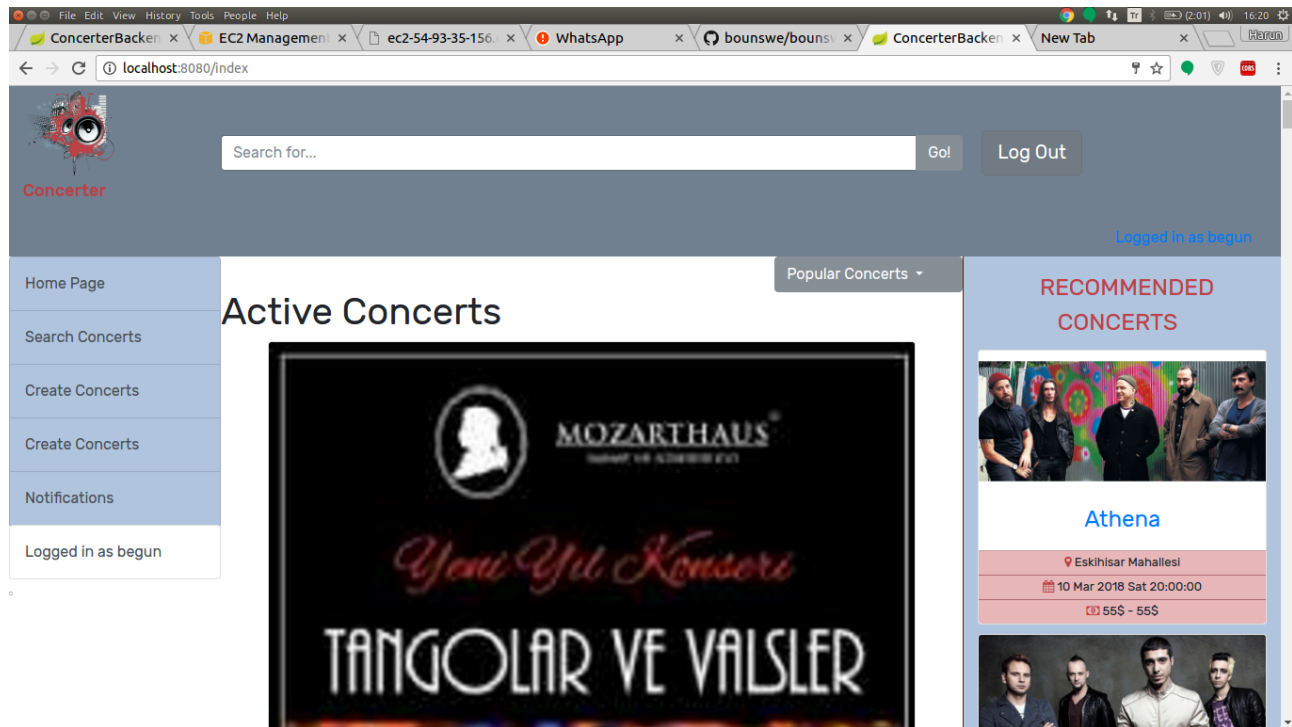

1.2) The login page

The screenshot shows the same web browser window, but the page content has changed to the login screen. The header and search bar remain the same. Below the header, there are links for 'Login' and 'Sign Up'. The main content area is light blue and contains two input fields labeled 'Email' and 'Password'. Below these fields is a 'Remember Me' checkbox. At the bottom of the form is a 'Log In' button. Below the 'Log In' button is a 'Forgot Password?' link and a green 'LOGIN WITH SPOTIFY' button.

You have to enter your email address and password you created. When done, you are redirected to the home page.

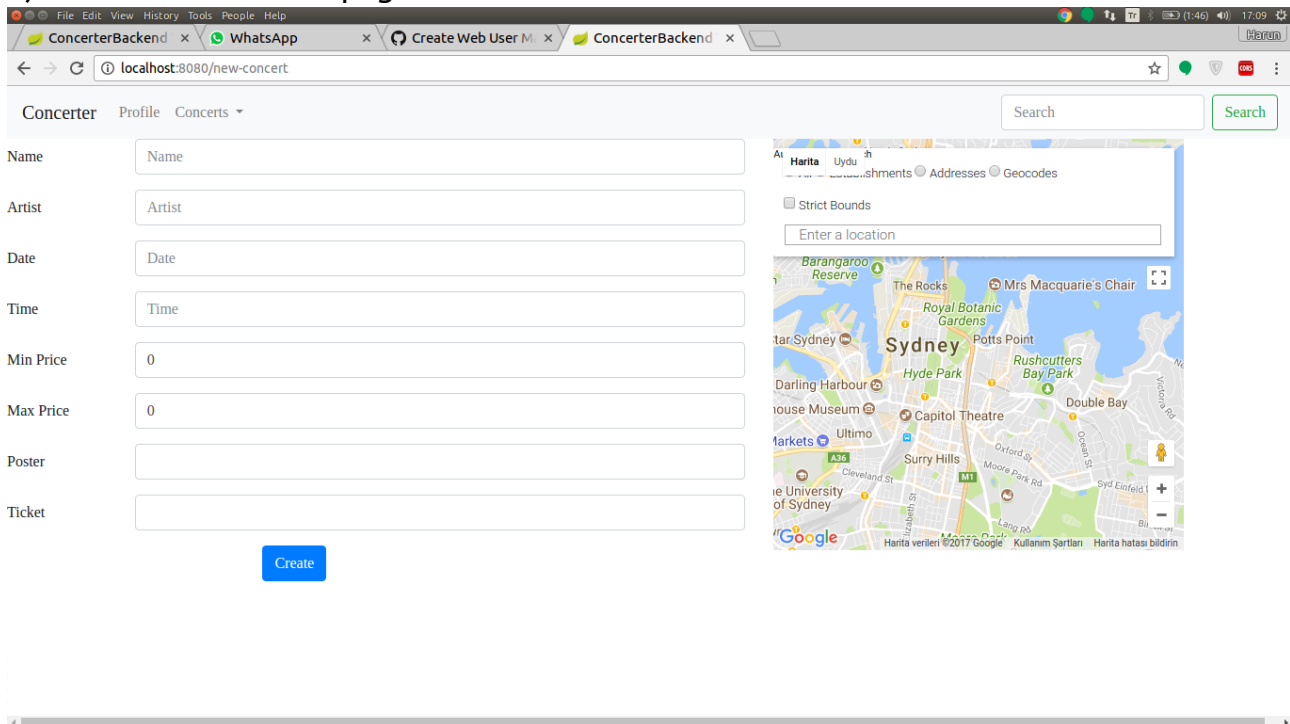

2) The Home Page

You can view the concerts on the middle of the home page, whereas the concerts recommended to you will appear on the right of the page. On the top menu, there is a search bar where you can perform basic search activity. On the right bar, there is a navigation menu. The first link is the home page. The second is search concerts, where you can perform advanced search. To create concerts, you can click on the create concert link. To view the notifications, you have to click the notifications button. The last link will take you to the profile page.

On the image in the button, you can see the details, shown for a concert.

3)The concert creation page:

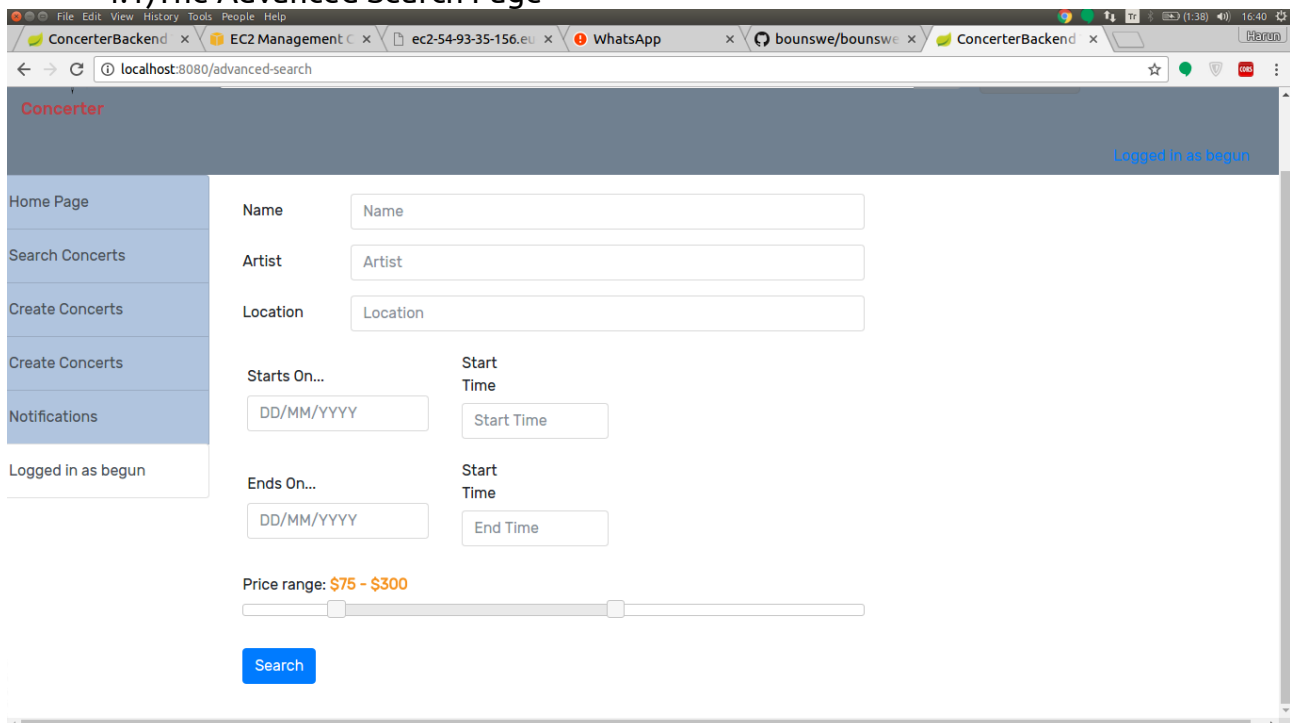

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the URL `localhost:8080/new-concert`. The page has a header with 'Concert' and tabs for 'Profile' and 'Concerts'. A search bar is in the top right. The main form has the following fields:

- Name:
- Artist:
- Date:
- Time:
- Min Price:
- Max Price:
- Poster:
- Ticket:

A blue 'Create' button is at the bottom. On the right, there is a map of Sydney with a search bar and a 'Search' button.

You have to enter the above information in order to create a concert. The minimum price and maximum price will show the price range. You have to paste a poster image link and a link for the other users to click in order to buy tickets.

4.1)The Advanced Search Page

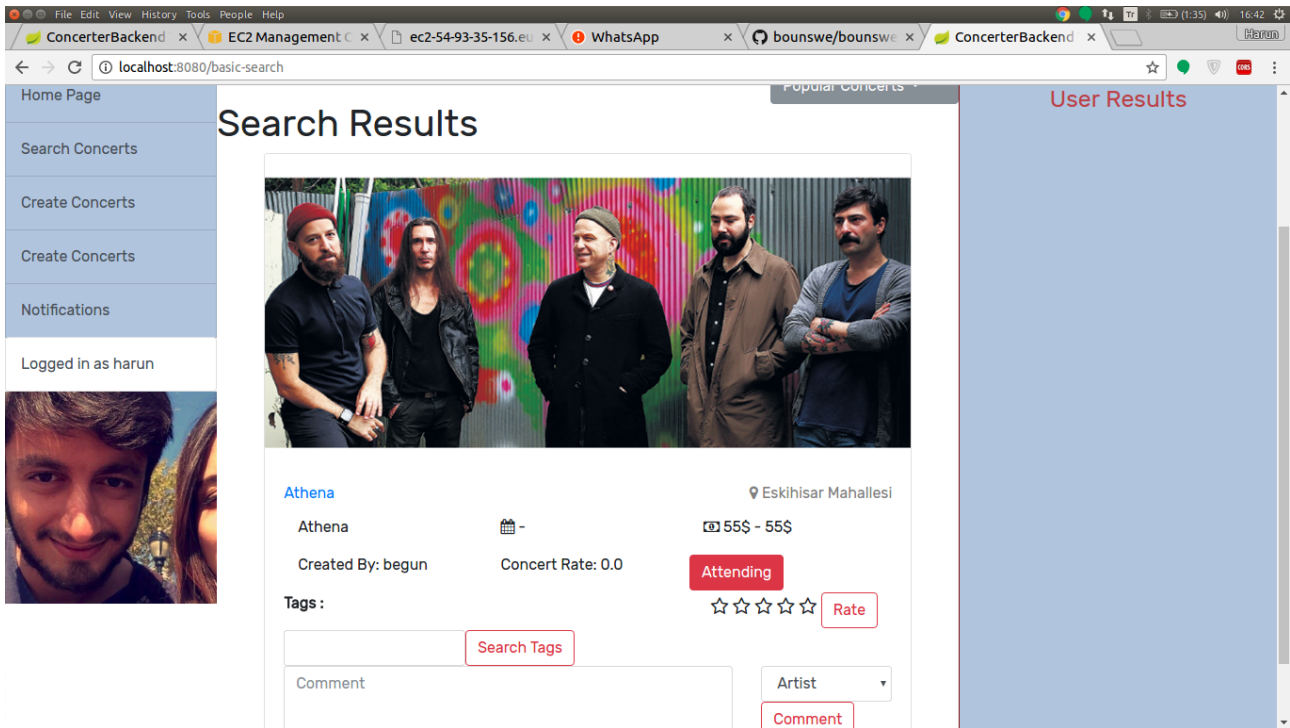

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the URL `localhost:8080/advanced-search`. The page has a header with 'Concert' and a sidebar with links: Home Page, Search Concerts, Create Concerts, Create Concerts, Notifications, and Logged in as begun. The main form has the following fields:

- Name:
- Artist:
- Location:
- Starts On...:
- Ends On...:
- Start Time:
- End Time:

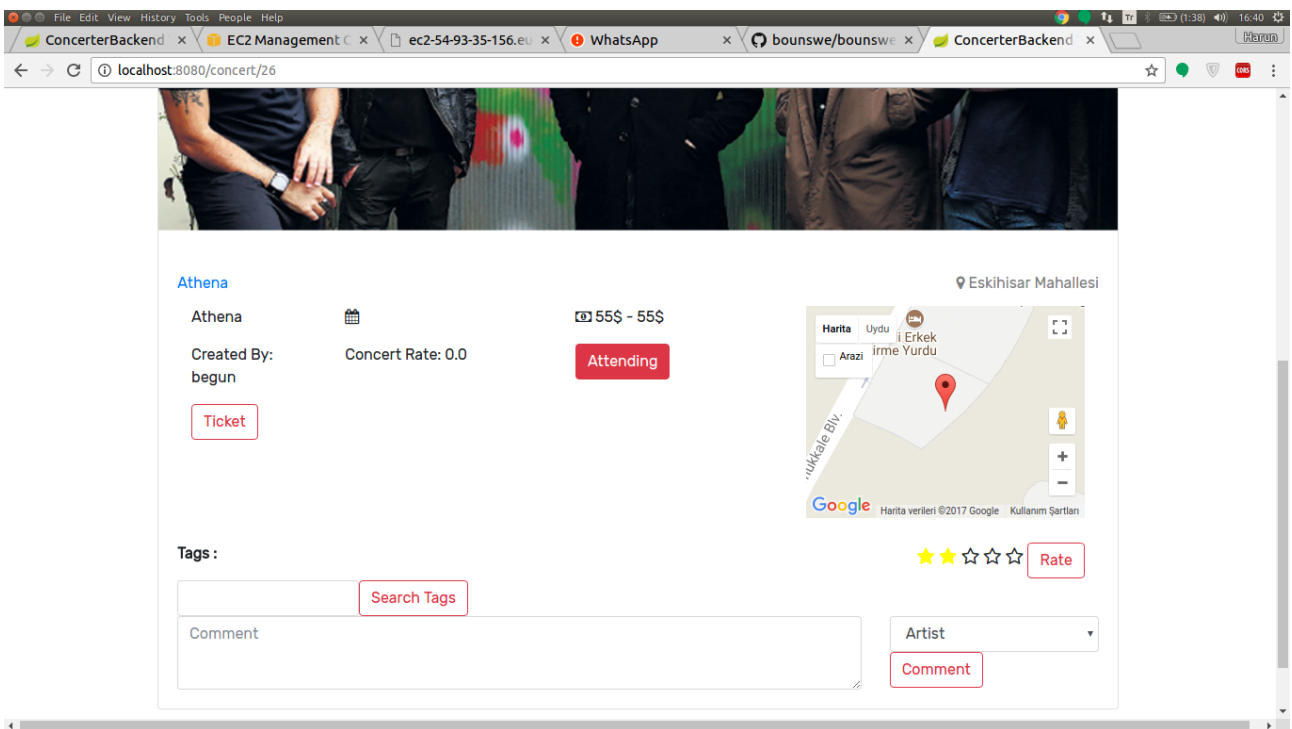

A price range slider is shown with values $75 - $300. A blue 'Search' button is at the bottom.

To perform advanced search and find concerts, you can do it by entering the information you wish. The site will redirect you to the search result page.

4.2) Search Result Page

5)The Concert Page

You can view the concert page by clicking any concert link on the site. The link will take you to the concert page of that concert. You can add semantic tags by searching the semantic tag and by clicking add on the relevant tag you were searching for. You can comment on the concert by specifying what your comment is about.
